

3 Reasons Why You Should Use REACH Cut Planner

Self-evaluation 1

You wonder how many other factories quote US$ 3.42 for the same product which you quote US$ 6.8

You realize you have probably been losing some orders because your pricing hasn't been competitive enough.

If only you could avoid high costs getting built into the product through inefficiencies.

Is there some way you could reduce fabric, your basic raw material, consumption ?

Then you could win those orders you've been losing.

Self-evaluation 2

You wonder why the order couldn't be Cut completely even with extra fabric being given to the cutting room.

Is a lot of fabric being wasted?

If only you had all those end bits as long rolls, you could have cut the order completely.

If only you could make 'tight' markers.

If only you could keep track of fabric consumption and conduct a fabric audit for every order.

... You could increase Your Profit.
